Attorney-Client Privilege

While we are happy to hear from you by telephone, mail, or email, contacting us does not create an attorney-client relationship between you and the firm. Please recognize that we cannot undertake a representation until, among other things, we are assured that doing so will not involve a conflict of interest. We therefore ask you not to send us any confidential information or information about any legal matter that may involve you without first contacting one of our attorneys and receiving a written statement from us whereby we agree to represent or advise you. Please note that any information you convey to W & W Legal Attorneys Ltd over the Internet may not be secure, and that information conveyed prior to establishing an attorney-client relationship may not be privileged or confidential.
